Balfour Beatty
WorkPlace

We work. You excel.

New Managing Director for Balfour Beatty WorkPlace

Leading facilities management provider, Balfour Beatty WorkPlace, has appointed a new managing director, Andy Hobart.

Hobart, aged 48, was most recently Divisional MD at Rentokil Initial, where he ran the Pest Control Division. He has a solid background in support services and a proven track record of business growth.

His predecessor, Kevin Craven, has moved to become the new CEO at Balfour Beatty Services.

Andy Hobart said:

"I am very excited to be joining Balfour Beatty WorkPlace at this point in its development. The business has more than doubled in size in the last four years, and it is my intention to take that even further.

"To continue to grow we will need to focus on excellent customer service and employee engagement. We offer our customers a unique breadth of services which, when combined with the capabilities of Balfour Beatty Group, means that we are constantly seeking to offer innovative solutions."